

Practice Test

Taylor Peters's Chapter 4 Study Guide

Review
Page

Correct answers in GREEN. Your answers in BLUE.

- ✓ 1. An underlying structure of rows and columns used to position content on a page is called a(n) ____.

A: layout grid

B: table layout

C: internal sheet

D: CSS

106
- ✗ 2. A Web page ____ is used to organize text and/or numbers.

A: data table

B: grid layout

C: style sheet

D: field tag

108
- ✓ 3. The final step in developing your design plan is ____.

A: to design the look and feel

B: to specify the navigation system

C: fill in the content

D: add a site index

110
- ✓ 4. The page to which a link points is called its ____.

A: target

B: image

C: tag

D: home page

111
- ✗ 5. An image map is an image that contains ____, which are areas on the image to which a link is assigned.

A: tags

B: hot spots

C: pixels

D: tables

113
- ✗ 6. A ____ is a list of related links.

A: navigation menu

B: navigation target

C: navigation tag

D: hot spot

114
- ✓ 7. ____ provides suggestions to site visitors as they type in the search box.

A: AutoText

B: AutoComplete

C: TextComplete

D: Hot spot

117
- ✗ 8. A ____ page layout sets the width of the page as a percentage of the browser window.

A: liquid

B: floating 100
C: fixed-width
D: screen-fill

✓ 9. It is recommended that you limit your color scheme to ____ major colors.

A: 1
B: 3 103
C: 7
D: 10

✗ 10. Style sheets can do which of the following?

A: Search for dead links
B: Connect to the database 105
C: Centralize formatting
D: All of the above

✓ 11. A ____ serves only as a visual guide for positioning content and does not appear when the Web page is actually viewed with a browser.

A: layout table
B: layout grid 106
C: hidden map
D: secret grid

✓ 12. ____ are a method for dividing the screen into multiple areas, with each area containing a separate Web page.

A: Divisions
B: Frames 108
C: Server-side objects
D: Master indexes

✓ 13. A ____ navigation system provides a linking relationship between pages based on the site visitors' needs rather than the site publisher's needs.

A: user-friendly
B: site-based
C: user-based 110
D: publisher-based

✓ 14. Types of links include ____.

A: image
B: site maps
C: text
D: all of the above 111

✓ 15. The hot spot link information in a ____ image map resides in the HTML coding of the page and is processed by the visitor's browser.

A: server-side
B: browser-side
C: client-side 113
D: object-side

✓ 16. ____ present links as small tabs.

A: Navigation tabs

- B: Navigation menus 114
C: Navigation bars
D: Navigation maps

17. As you plan your navigation system, you should remember to do which of the following?

A: Create both a user-based and a user-controlled navigation system

- B: Include a link back to the home page on underlying pages 118
C: Avoid ambiguous text in text links
D: All of the above

18. The area beyond the initial visible screen is called the ____.

- A: scroll zone 98
B: secondary position
C: hidden page
D: content object

19. A ____ page layout sets a specific pixel width of a page.

- A: fixed-width 100
B: relative-width
C: screen-width
D: locked screen

20. You can add a style rule to your pages in which of the following ways?

- A: External style sheet 104
B: Internal style sheet
C: Inline style
D: All of the above

Take Another Test